We Are Keeping in Touch and New Members

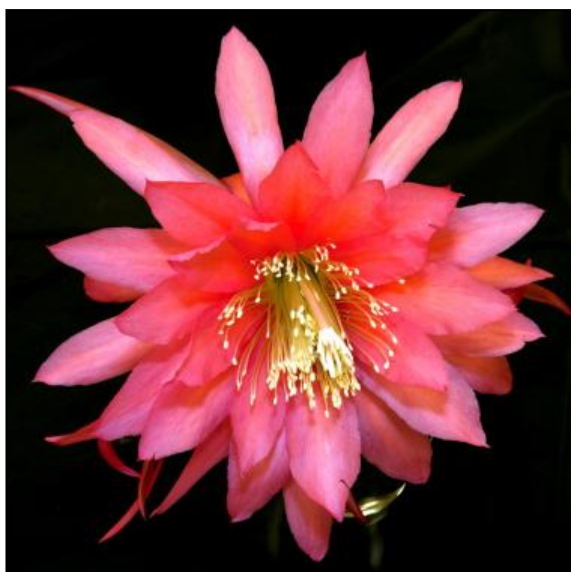

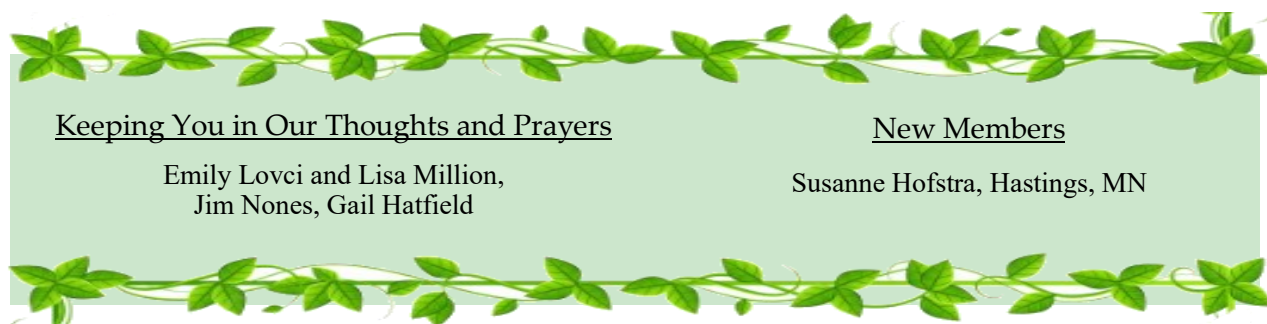

Our members are the most important part of our society. Together we create more beauty for all to enjoy.

As with any group, we are more effective and stronger when we are unified together—and our membership spans the globe! Although the epies are what bring us together at first, lifelong friendships are made in the society. Knowledge, plants, passions, and stories of those who came before us are shared between members—and everyone has fun!

President's Corner — From President Dean DeLibertis

Dear SDES Members:

Ask not what the San Diego Epiphyllum Society can do for you, but what you can do for The Society. As we approach that time to begin the election process again, we are looking for members to step up. I must say this year became a very calm, very productive, and very satisfying year. We now look to our members to step up and carry the torch to serve The Society.

As this is an election, not an appointment, all seats and are available for your consideration. If there is something special that you want, desire—or a direction in which you would like to guide the club; please reach out and have a conversation with any of our board members.

I would very much like to focus my time back on sales. Without the Safari Park to replenish and store our stock, we have a challenge ahead of us. As these challenges and hurdles arise, I will reach out and ask for help. If you can please jump in. I try to make it painless and fun—and occasionally education along the way.

Don't forget the SDES Member Appreciation Event is set for September 12, 2026. We look forward to seeing you there and at our upcoming September meeting.

Dean

Meeting Program & Workshop

Pre-Meeting Workshop: The September pre-meeting workshop topic is yet to be determined, and will be announced prior to the September meeting. The workshop will be held in Casa Del Prado Room 104 at 7:00 p.m.

September Program: Our September meeting will be held on September 9, 2026 in Casa Del Prado Room 101 at 7:30 p.m. Our program will take a look at "Small Flowering Epiphyllum". Often overlooked in comparison to their larger siblings, small epies typically have a longer bloom cycle and can provide nearly year-round enjoyment. You won't want to miss this informative presentation on these beautiful small flowers. Zoom begins at 7:00 p.m. for socializing, and the online meeting will join the live meeting at 7:30 p.m.

August Program: Our August meeting was held on August 12, 2026 in Casa Del Prado Room 101. Our guest speaker Julie Turko, who is with the Lakeside River Park, discussed "The San Diego River Watershed."

Paula Reynolds shared photos of her Selenicereus validus (a.k.a. Sid Vicious) which is currently blooming. She writes that it has a STRONG scent of milk chocolate and her living room smells amazing! (Which makes the pokies tolerable!) Too bad, it is only here for a few hours.

Now Is the Time—Seasonal Checklist

- ✓ Maintain good grooming. Eliminate unsightly and non-productive branches. This directs the plant's energy into the healthier branches which will produce stronger blooms next spring. Branches that have grown long should be in hanging baskets or trellised.
- ✓ Protect plants from excessive, direct sunlight. Although the end of summer is in sight, in Southern California we can still anticipate some very hot days.
- ✓ Prevent soil from drying out. Also, keep an eye on the humidity. Even though it may be very hot, too much watering during humid weather can contribute to root rot. Make sure there is air circulation around your pots.
- ✓ Protect new growth from wind damage. Hot, dry Santa Ana winds blow in September. Keep an eye on your plants during these days.
- ✓ Protect apples (seed pods) from birds and rodents. Birds, rodents, and raccoons love to feast on them.
- ✓ Give plants a final feeding. Use a balanced fertilizer (10-10-10) for the fall growing season to nourish you plants.
- ✓ Mist or hose down branches to clean off dirt and pollutants. With the hot summer weather letting up a bit, occasional misting or spraying is beneficial.
- ✓ Some “die-back” is natural in epies. Fall is the season you'll see this, along with some tender, green, new growth.
- ✓ Many species plants bud and bloom now. Remember to give them some fertilizer and don't move plants that are budding.
- ✓ Watch for pests. Late summer and early fall is an active time for snails. During dry weather, snails and slugs are drawn to moist, potted plants. As many can attest, snails and slugs can destroy your mature plants.

Idée fixe Article and Photos by Linda Sinkovic

...an idée fixe (french for 'fixed idea') is a preoccupation of mind... a fixation. — Wikipedia

I know I said 'Next time I will talk about the new Joël Lodé book set, Taxonomy of the Cactaceae'. However that discussion is going to have to wait. This time I want to say a little about Steve Pincott.

Steve was a hybridizer of epicacti who lived in Lesmurdie, up in the hills to the east of Perth, Western Australia.¹ We met online in a plant forum and I can't remember the exact date when we became friends—some time before 2009, since that year we went to Australia and visited him and his wife Nola. They were friendly, hospitable, and wonderful people. In 2009, when we visited them at their home for lunch, we thought that we would leave after an hour or so. Instead we had a great time and ended up staying until 2 A.M.²

We stayed friends and had a long email correspondence, discussing epicacti naturally and gardening in general. We also discussed politics pretty extensively.³ And everything that I know about cricket and Aussie Rules footy⁴ is because of Steve's explanations.⁵

Steve was a good guy and I always enjoyed reading mail from him. He would send goofy cartoons and photos of epicacti, many of them varieties that aren't grown in the US. Of his own hybrids, he has nine registrations in the ESA Registry,⁶ though I think only two of them are available in this country ('Black Pearl' and 'Tasstic'). Those are the two hybrids which I was growing.⁷

Steve passed away on July 22 this year. He is survived by his wife Nola.

So please make the time to enjoy your friends. And also make time to enjoy your plants.

I will talk about the new Joël Lodé book set, Taxonomy of the Cactaceae, next time.

Steve's shade house in Western Australia.

Nola, Steve, and Peter from our 2009 visit.

Notes:

¹ Perth has an outstanding botanical garden at King's Park. If you visit in October you will see an amazing display of Western Australian wildflowers in bloom. (<https://www.bgpa.wa.gov.au/western-australian-botanic-garden>)

² Because I had to drive us back to the hotel, it rapidly became an interesting situation. As you may know, they drive on the opposite side of the road in Australia and there are many roundabouts/traffic circles there. On the plus side, all those roundabouts were good practice for France, where apparently there are more than half the world's roundabouts.

³ Yes we discussed both U.S. and Australian politics. And in fact we discussed the politics of other countries too. No, we didn't have all the answers but we both knew BS when we saw it.

⁴ Australian Rules Football.

⁵ Which to be fair, is not much as I can't explain them to anyone. But then again I don't know much about the rules for most other sports either. However Steve was an avid cricket and footy fan and happy to try to explain them to someone like me.

⁶ Registrations in 2010: 'Black Pearl', 'Lady Bold'; in 2012, 'Class Clown', 'Dr Earnshaw', 'Fijian Joy', 'Karen Michelle', 'Pink Elegance', 'Tasstic'. In 2024, Michael Guillot registered 'King Hit'. Steve also registered a few older Australian hybrids such as 'Flamingo' (Australian) and 'W. H. Morris'.

⁷ A few people in San Diego have plants of 'Tasstic'. Not sure who rescued my plant of 'Black Pearl', but it was probably Jerry M. or Beth J.

San Diego Epiphyllum Society Grows With Instagram Social

The San Diego Epiphyllum Society recently launched a new Instagram account @SDepisociety. At the time of this publication, we have over 70 followers and the numbers are growing every day.

For those that are new to Instagram, the platform is designed for visual content—encouraging users to express themselves and share stories through images and videos.

Using Instagram social media as a tool, we're able to post photos and videos from events such as our Mother's Day Show and Sale, and our Garden Caravan—as well as additional sales events and activities to attract new members to our group. And, Instagram also provides a forum to showcase the beautiful bloom photos taken by our members. Be sure to check for frequent updates and follow us today!

What's in a Name? A Beautiful Flower of Course!

Friendship, Kindness, and Pirates... Oh My! by Jerry Moreau

It has been a good summer—if not a warm one. many late-summer fruits and vegetables are still September is here, though, and summer will linger plentiful and ready to enjoy. with us a little while longer.

September has always carried a sense of beginning for me. Although we are entering the final season of the year, the close of summer brings back memories of school starting and a new cycle unfolding. January has always seemed an odd time to begin a new year; it arrives in the heart of winter. Shouldn't spring be the true beginning? But I digress.

I recently learned that September is Friendship and Kindness Month, which feels like a lovely theme for our society as we pause to admire all that is growing in our gardens and in our lives. As the season shifts, we might make room for small acts of generosity: sharing a harvest, offering a cutting or a plant, or simply expressing gratitude to one another.

I also love fall for its abundance. September welcomes apple season, along with almonds, figs, walnuts, persimmons, and pears. At the same time,

Just a few days before the fall equinox comes Talk Like a Pirate Day, observed on September 19. The holiday reportedly began during a racquetball game between Mark Summers and John Baur in Albany, Oregon, when one of them responded to an injury during a match with a hearty “Aaarr!”—and an idea was born.

September is a lovely month of transition. The days remain warm and bright, while the evenings begin to cool. And, of course, many of these seasonal treasures have epies named for them. Perhaps there is a variety you have not encountered yet. You may still have some off-season epi hybrids blooming, along with a few species taking center stage as we say good-bye to summer.
